He is currently working with pastors, churches and individuals in 37 countries via the internet, email and telephone.

About LCMI

LCMI was formed in 2001 as an outreach to frustrated and desperate Christians whose lives appear to be falling apart. This interdenominational non-profit outreach invites people to discover victory over their internal hell moment by moment, both now and for eternity. Struggles, disappointments and hurts work in our favor by revealing our neediness and encouraging us to reach out in faith to God—the One who alone is our security and stability. Problems are rarely root issues but mere symptoms of deeper issues. We desire to help people understand and face those deeper root issues while giving them the tools to untangle their own lives.
